

Callie Rekas is a Bloomington native excited to be returning home! She recently completed graduate school at NYU, receiving her M.A. in Dance Education with an emphasis in Ballet Pedagogy, and is now pursuing her PhD in Arts Education at Indiana University. Callie grew up working with nearly all of the arts organizations in town and received her B.A. in Theatre & Drama from IU. After building an extensive theatre resume, she moved to Los Angeles to focus on on-camera technique and joined SAG-AFTRA in her time there. Callie is an American Ballet Theatre certified teacher and has taught students of every age and skill level. She is passionate about bridging technique and performance, as her two greatest loves are ballet and musical theatre.
